PORT ARTHUR FALLEN

The Japanese Have Captured That Stronghold.

THIS STORY PROBABLY TRUE.

It Has Been Reported Several Times, but This Dispatch Comes From a Chinese Source — The Battle Lasted Eighteen Hours—Brief Resumé of the March of the Japanese Army.

CHE-FOO, Nov. 24.—Dispatches have been received here stating that the Japanese captured Port Arthur on Wednesday last after 18 hours' fighting.

The second Chinese-Japanese army, under the command of Field Marshal Count Oyama, minister of war, consisted of about 30,000 men, and when this force arrived off the regent's sword promontory, it was divided into two detachments, one of which, aided by part of the Japanese fleet, operated against Taliawan, while the other directed its movements against Kin-Chow, on the western side of the promontory, some miles north of Port Arthur.

Taliawan and Kin-Chow were both captured, after which the army again combined and the march on Port Arthur was commenced. Several engagements of minor importance took place along the route, but, according to reports, the Japanese were invariably successful. The roads leading northward from Port Arthur were supposed to have been mined by the Chinese, and the Japanese commander therefore declined to take the risk of marching his troops along them. Consequently they were compelled to cut roads through the forests to allow of the passage of their artillery, ammunition trains, etc. The march was thus necessarily slow.

Dispatches received a few days ago stated that the Japanese were close to the city and had attacked the Chinese outposts, driving them back to their entrenchments. It was also said that the Japanese attacked the entrenchments three times, but were repulsed each time. It is evident that later attacks must have been made and that the outposts were compelled to fall back upon Port Arthur.

Several times the town is reported to have been captured, but later dispatches have shown that these reports were inaccurate and that the Japanese were conducting their operations against the place with great carelessness and that they intended when the real attack was made that it should be successful.

Che-Foo, from which place the dispatch announcing the fall of Port Arthur is sent, is a Chinese city on the north coast of the Shang-Tun promontory, some 90 miles south of Port Arthur from which it is separated by the Gulf of Pe-Chi-Li.

The Dispatches Confirmed.

LONDON, Nov. 24.—A dispatch to The Times from Che-Foo says that Port Arthur was taken Wednesday evening. The fighting was continuous from noon of the 20th. The Japanese fleet did not take part in the engagement, though the torpedo boats attached to the fleet did. The Japanese are now leaving Port Arthur.

A Shanghai dispatch to The Times confirms the report of the capture of Port Arthur. It says that the Japanese torpedo boats disturbed forts while the troops entered the town.

ATTACKED BY A WILD HOG.

A Baby Killed and a Mother Severely Injured.

GUTHRIE, O. T., Nov. 24.—At Sacred Heart, a hamlet a few miles from here, Mrs. Galobio's 14-month-old babe was almost eaten up by a wild hog. The woman had laid the child on a blanket near where she was washing. While her back was turned, her attention was called to the child by its piteous cries. An immense wild hog was ravenously eating the flesh of the babe, having already terribly lacerated its face.

Made ferocious by the taste of food, the hog refused to give up its prey and gave battle when Mrs. Galobio endeavored to rescue the child. The hog finally becoming master of the situation, grabbed the bleeding, crying babe in its mouth and started for the woods. It gained several yards before it resisted the attack of the distracted mother. In her wild endeavor to secure her babe, Mrs. Galobio was herself terribly injured, her flesh being torn from her body in several places. Finally, however, she succeeded in grabbing the child and escaping. The baby is dead and Mrs. Galobio severely injured.

Firearms Sent to Hawaii.

PONT TOWNSEND, Wash., Nov. 24.—The Associated Press dispatches from San Francisco intimating a probable uprising of the royalists in Hawaii to overthrow the present government and place Queen Liliuokalani on the throne, receive part confirmation in this city. A well known and responsible ship breaker, who requested his name withheld for the present, made the statement yesterday that he knew of his own personal knowledge that large quantities of firearms and ammunition were being shipped recently, clandestinely, to Hawaii on lumber vessels.

Dashed Down a Grade.

OMAHA, Nov. 24.—An electric motor car became unmanageable on the steep Twentieth street hill last night and after dashing two blocks at a terrific speed jumped the track and collided with a telegraph pole. The injured are: Motorman Clark, dangerously hurt; Colonel A. A. McCoy of Deadwood; Ed Hayden; D. N. Callahan and Mrs. D. A. Hart of Omaha; not serious.

MAY 25, 1894. A Professor's Opinion of the Mount Ranier Eruption Report.

TACOMA, Nov. 24.—It remains cloudy and Mount Ranier or Mount Tacoma can not be seen. Professor P. B. Vantramp of Yelm prairie, 30 miles north of the Northern Pacific railroad, where a splendid view of the mountain could be obtained, writes The Ledger to the effect that instead rising from the mountain have probably been mistaken for smoke.

The professor says: "Persons familiar with mountain phenomena, especially those pertaining to this great mountain, know that clouds or masses of mists often form very rapidly on the mountain side or near its base, which sometimes suddenly elongate into streamers or columns and shoot rapidly up the mountain in the ravines or depressions between its rocky ribs and rise high above the peaks. Seen from the other side of the peak this ascending column of mist (of a dark or black hue when seen in a certain light) looks exactly like smoke issuing from the summit of the peak."

"Such phenomena is sometimes seen in connection with the north peak. Again the weather caps which are thrown off from the middle peak, sometimes half dozen in rapid succession, look very much sometimes like puffs of smoke. These caps are simply condensed mist, air or steam from the craters and almost invariably precede a storm or change in the weather."

Dangerous Counterfeit.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—Chief Hazen of the United States secret service has received from Newark, N. J., one of the most dangerous counterfeits seen in a long time. It is a $20 United States note with the "Morris" head and serial check letter "D." The execution of the work is exceptionally fine in every particular. The penalty clause in the left space of the reverse side of the note is entirely wanting, also the words "series of" on face, but for these deficiencies the character of the note would be almost impossible of detection.

Fire in New York.

NEW YORK, Nov. 24.—Fire broke out at 12:15 this morning in the 8-story brick factory building, 19 and 21 Roosevelt street. It started from an unknown cause on the first floor, and despite the fact that four alarms were sent in, calling out a large number of engines, the building was gutted, and the loss is estimated at $100,000. The first and second floors of the building were occupied by D. Kuhnweilers and the Navesine Life Preserving company. The upper floors were occupied by the Parrott glass works.

Strikers' Trial Postponed.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Nov. 24.—The trial of the 75 striking miners, charged with participating in the Horse creek riot last April, came to a sudden halt at Jasper yesterday where Judge Banks has been hearing the cases since Monday. Owing to an error in the wording of the indictments they were quashed. The cases go over until next term of court in order that new indictments may be found.

Home Market Club.

BOSTON, Nov. 24.—The annual meeting of the Home Market club of Boston, the leading Republican organization of Massachusetts, was held at Mechanics' building Thursday night. Upon the platform beside the party forming the reception committee were General Russell Alger of Detroit and Rev. Edward Everett Hale of Boston. Ex-Speaker Reed was the chief speaker.

An Architect Suicides.

TOLEDO, Nov. 24.—Joseph A. Beck, a leading architect of this city, committed suicide yesterday afternoon. His body was found by tramps hanging to a tree in a wood near the river road, fully five miles from the city. What led Beck to take his life is not known, as he was supposed to be prosperous in his business and entirely free from any domestic unhappiness.

General Gibson's Funeral.

TIFFIN, O., Nov. 24.—The funeral of the late General W. H. Gibson will occur next Monday at noon, and will be conducted under the auspices of the Grand Army of the Republic. The body will lie in state for two hours preceding the funeral. The members of the Forty-ninth Ohio regiment will act as bodyguard.

False Imprisonment Charged.

DENVER, Nov. 24.—J. W. Payne, the Los Angeles army contractor, arrested here on a charge of embezzlement from his bondsman, having secured his release on a writ of habeas corpus, has sued the detectives who arrested him and the chief of police, Armstrong, for $10,000 damages for false imprisonment.

Against Impracticables.

LITTLE ROCK, Nov. 24.—Governor Fishback has written a letter to A. B. Werner, president of the Bimetallic League, that he will not follow any set of impracticables into a new party, and that the Democratic party is the only one through which "we can ever secure free and unlimited coinage of silver."

Big Suit Set.

NEW YORK, Nov. 24.—Hearings of the suit of the soldiers' orphans' home of St. Louis against Russell Sago and the heirs of the late Jay Gould, to compel the return of about $11,000,000 in bonds of the Texas Pacific Railroad company, has been set for Dec. 7 by Surrogate Fitzgerald.

TORONTO, O., Nov. 24.—McClain's general store at Knoxville, three miles west of this place, was entered by burglars at an early hour Friday morning. They took knives, revolvers and other articles to the amount of $75.

EARTHQUAKE VICTIMS

Fifty Thousand People Destitute in Sicily.

THEIR HOMES WERE DESTROYED.

Many Dead Bodies Are Still Unburied, Although the Military and Volunteers of All Classes Are Doing Everything Possible to Restore Order—Slight Disturbances Are Still Being Felt.

ROME, Nov. 24.—Further particulars of the earthquake in Sicily and southern Italy have been received here.

Dispatches from Reggio say that there are 50,000 persons in that district who have been rendered homeless by the earthquakes.

Many bodies were upheaved in the cemetery of San Procopio at the time it was disturbed by the earthquakes, and a number of bodies remain in sight and will have to be reinterred.

Horrible scenes have been witnessed in the stricken districts, where numbers of people have been wounded and in several cases maimed. Some of the sufferers had limbs torn off, which used their death before they could be removed from the streets.

The military and volunteers of all classes of the inhabitants are working with energy, building huts and providing food for those who are most in want.

Slight earthquakes and subterranean rumblings continue to be felt at Milazzo, Sicily, where the inhabitants are still terror-stricken.

SAVED HIS COLONEL'S LIFE.

Sensational Testimony in the Washington C. H. Inquiry.

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 24.—The particulars of an attempt on the life of Col. Coit was the sensational feature of yesterday's testimony before the military court of inquiry. The fact was for the first time made public that a revolt had been leveled at the officer's head, and but for the prompt action of Lieutenant Baker they might have been a tragedy. It was in the afternoon when Colonel Coit was circulating in the crowd. Baker saw a man in the crowd point a revolver at the head of Colonel Coit. The lieutenant drew his own gun and covered the would-be murderer. The latter dropped his arm and sank away in the crowd. Baker testified to this effect to the court.

Perry Capel, a private in the regiment, told of being overpowered during the conflict in the afternoon. He and Sergeant Auld were both overcome and carried 30 feet. One of their captors suggested that they "Hang the _____. The soldiers were later released.

JAMES D. Dewolfe, a newspaper correspondent, testified relative to a conversation with Mayor Creaner. The witness said Creaner's mind seemed to be belogged and he apparently knew nothing of his duty under the circumstances.

Several witnesses for the citizens were examined. Frank Kennedy, county surveyor of Fayette county, testified to having seen Colonel Coit go to Casey Brothers' saloon and restaurant at least four times. Jacob Thorno, an employee of Casey Brothers, stated that he saw Colonel Coit take a drink of whisky.

Rev. McNair testified to partially successful efforts to dissuade the crowd from rash acts. He believed the soldiers displayed a lack of courage in going into the courthouse.

Albert C. Walters, a non-commissioned officer, identified a piece of oak wood and a portion of a door lock plate that he picked up at the base of the door forced open. They were pieces of the door.

KNIGHTS OF LABOR ADJOURN.

The Next Convention Will Be Held in Washington Next November.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 24.—The Knights of Labor wound up their session yesterday. At the morning session a resolution was adopted protesting against the issue of new bonds by the United States government and characterizing the issue as a fraud and an outrage upon the toiling masses in flagrant violation of existing laws and intended solely in the interest of the money powers and bondholding aristocracy.

A resolution favoring the amalgamation of all brewing associations into one organization of the Knights of Labor was referred to the executive board.

The recommendation that the surface railroad employees of New York be re-united in one body of the Knights of Labor was adopted. The committee on appeals and grievances made their report.

The next convention will be held in Washington in November of next year.

Previous to final adjournment General Master Workman Sovereign called Kenney of the executive board to the chair and took the floor. Mr. Sovereign then moved that the salary of the general master workman be reduced from $3,500 to $2,800. The motion was unanimously carried.

The members of the executive board will remain in the city until the work left on their hands has been attended to.

DETROIT, Nov. 24.—Three telegraph wire tappers were caught in the act yesterday afternoon, near the Grand Trunk railway, four miles east of Windsor. They were operating upon a wire leading to a poolroom in Windsor and sending false results of races, having confederates at the poolroom. They give the names of Henry O'Hara, Harry Warner and Edward Smith.

SOME CHANGE FOR THE BETTER. Business Slightly Improved Over That Reported Last Week.

NEW YORK, Nov. 24.—R. G. Dun & Company's weekly review of trade says: There is some change for the better. The gain is slow, and in some directions not very distinct, but the signs of it are a little more definite than last week. The most important of them is larger employment of labor, answering a better demand on the whole for manufactured products. Much of this is due to the unnatural delay of orders for the winter, which resulted from prolonged uncertainty, but it means actual increase in earnings and purchasing power of the millions, and so gives promise of a larger demand in the future. Prices of farm products in the aggregate do not improve, but the prevailing hopefulness is felt in somewhat larger transactions.

The wheat market has lost this week the cent it gained last week, when receipts being larger, and Atlantic reports are also larger, 576,771 bushels against 701,026 last year, but these are of small account compared with the great visible supply. Foreign reports this week have been rather more promising, though the fact remains that the world's crop outside the United States is probably the largest ever grown.

Corn has declined one-half cent, receipts having much increased.

The foreign demand for cotton continues large, exports being 50,000 bales larger than for the same week last year, but receipts also continue greater than a year ago, and for three months will closely approximate those of the same three months when the yield was over 9,000,000 bales. But the price rose an eighth.

Textile industries have added a few factories to the working list, against only one or two withdrawn, and there has been some improvement in the demand for woolens. More supplementary orders for spring have been received, and colder weather has improved the demand for heavy goods. Yet on the whole the market is not active and the manufacture is much below the capacity of works. Sales of wool for the week increased again, though still far behind last year, and for four weeks of November have been 12,259,800 pounds, against 17,590,521 last year. Since August the sales have been 12 per cent more than last year, but 33 per cent less than in 1892.

The iron industry again records lower prices for Bessemer iron, $10.40 at Pittsburgh, and for some manufactured products. The consumption is large and for the season fairly well maintained, but as it is not equal to the capacity of works in operation their struggle to get business keeps prices at the bottom. It is reported that an American shipyard has secured orders to build three armored cruisers for Russia which will give added work for some years, and that a contract for 10,000 tons of cast pipe for Tokio will probably be secured by a southern concern.

Tin, copper and lead are all weaker, and some concessions are reported in tinplate.

The coke product slightly decreases, but was about the largest ever known for October.

The failures this week have been 322 in the United States, against 385 last year, and 31 in Canada, against 34 last year.

South Bend Frauds Arrested.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 24.—D. Samuel Killmer, Harry McDonald and Elmer Strayer of South Bend have been brought here on grand jury warrants, issued on indictments charging them with using the mail for fraudulent purposes. They are engaged in making and selling lotions for the improvement of complexions of women. They represent about 150 firms or companies that are making and selling patent medicines and lotions.

Dr. Killmer is said to be worth $100,000, and McDonald and Strayer are wealthy. Dr. Killmer has been doing business under the name of "Louise Fairfield." The three men were arraigned in the United States court Friday and permitted to sign a recognizance bond for $1,500.

Eloped With His Brother's Wife.

GREENUP, Ky., Nov. 24.—Great excitement prevails at White Oak, this county, over the disappearance of James Creaner, with the wife of his brother John. Some months ago James and his wife parted, and she brought suit against him and attached all the property he had. This trouble was settled by the two, and they again went to housekeeping. Everything was apparently going well, when, Thursday night, James skipped with his sister-in-law. They left in a wagon, supposedly for Portsmouth. A warrant was sworn out for him.

Tramps Attempt to Wreck a Train.

BIDDEFORD, Me., Nov. 24.—An attempt at train wrecking was made by tramps on the eastern division of the Boston and Maine, about one mile east of West Falmouth, early this morning. The men broke into a carhouse, and secured tools, with which they removed spikes and bolts from the rails. The condition of the track was discovered by section men shortly before a train was due to pass.

Earthquake in Connecticut.

NEW LONDON, Conn., Nov. 24.—Slight shocks of earthquake were reported from towns adjacent to this city yesterday morning between 8 and 9 o'clock, reports coming from Groton, Mystic, Lyman and Niantic, where the sound was as of distant thunder and the vibration pronounced. No damage is reported as far as known.

FAIRVIEW, O., Nov. 24.—Louis Moore was shot by Kearney Brown, 29, and perhaps fatally injured.

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 24, 1894.

Fair weather; slightly warmer.

An interesting feature of the returns from the late election is that Hill received 113,000 fewer votes in New York than Cleveland did in 1892, while Hill and Wheeler together are 30,000 votes behind Cleveland.

The recent Republican landslide does not equal the Democratic landslide four years ago. In 1890 there were elected to Congress 237 Democrats, 87 Republicans and 8 Populists, giving the Democrats a majority over all of 142. The Republican majority in the next Congress may possibly reach 130.

The Call of Columbus, O., fires a shot at Governor McKinley in the following: "The unfamiliar face which you see around the State House square these days is that of William McKinley, once or twice elected Governor of Ohio. He has come back to draw his salary out of an empty treasury."

The Republican press is disappointed because the Democrats do not seem depressed by their recent defeat. The Philadelphia Record, just after the election, gave a very good reason why true Democracy has always just cause for hope. It says: "As the maintenance and enforcement of Democratic principles are essential to good government the organization is a political necessity. The Democratic sons of earth will only acquire new vigor from their fall. Presidents and Senators and new tariff schedules may come and go, but Democracy lives forever."

HON. JOSEPH MEDILL is editor of the Chicago Tribune, and the Chicago Tribune is the leading Republican journal of the West. Here is the way Mr. Medill talks about McKinleyism:

Certain insect editors of Republican papers in the rural districts are vociferating that no man is eligible for any office in the gift of the party who does not lay his hand on his heart and swear that the McKinley bill was the last best gift of God to man, and that if he had the power he would re-enact it or something substantially like it. Who are these individuals who are usurping the power of a National convention, and prescribing tests of party fealty, and announcing that all who will not come up to their requirements shall be excommunicated?

McKinley made some speeches in this State. Did he say that the issue was the Wilson bill versus the McKinley bill? Not at all. He denounced the former, and discussed its ruinous effects on the industries of the country and stopped there. From whom, then, do these rural editors learn that no man is a good Republican unless he insists that the Republican platform of 1896 must be the re-enactment of a bill against which the people voted twice?

"We think this is pretty strong language," exclaims the Cincinnati Tribune, another Republican paper. Well, we think so too.

McIlvain & Humphreys.

The painters and paper-hangers have been at work of late at McIlvain & Humphreys, furniture and undertaking establishment on Sutton street and have transformed it into one of the handsomest business houses in Maysville. The public, however, are not especially interested in this. It is the fine line of furniture the firm is display that the people should see. The firm's stock is the largest they have ever offered, consisting of everything kept in a first-class furniture store, from the lowest-priced goods to the most elegant and costly.

And the firm also take especial pride in their undertaking department. It is not surpassed anywhere. Their stock of caskets, burial robes, &c., is the largest in the city and nothing more elegant in this line is manufactured. They have fitted up, in tasteful manner, a room on the second floor especially for displaying their caskets and burial robes. Their hearse, three in number, are the handsomest and most elegant made. Mr. George Griffin, who has charge of this department, has had years of experience as undertaker and embalmer. He can be found at the store, night and day.

The firm invite inspection of their line of goods, and will take pleasure in showing anyone through their place of business. The patronage of the public solicited.

JUDGE PUGH.

He is Mentioned as the Latest Aspirant for the Republican Gubernatorial Honors.

[Cincinnati Enquirer.]

VANCEBURG, Ky., Nov. 22.—Vanceburg has the Congressman from the Ninth district, and she shoves out her hand to clutch the gubernatorial prize. Since Judge S. J. Pugh won such a signal victory, in his triumph over Rolla K. Hart—leaping over 3,000 majority, and landing 602 votes beyond it—his friends have quietly gone to work to smooth his pathway to the gubernatorial nomination.

That he will strive for the nomination admits of little doubt; that he will get it if he goes after it, admits of none. He never lifts his pole to a political persimmon that he does not make it fall in his outspread hands. The recent victory lifts him from a local celebrity to a powerful State party leader.

It is at present given out that Colonel Wm. O. Bradley, of Lancaster, will get the nomination by acclamation. It is well for the doughty Colonel to rest secure in that belief, and extract all the comfort from it possible before the Republican hosts meet in State convention next August.

"True, it may be contended," said a prominent Republican of this city to-day, "that the party owes the nomination to Colonel Bradley on account of the aggressive and effective campaign he made against Governor Buckner, but the selection of candidates is not determined by questions of party gratitude. There is very little gratitude in politics."

"The question to consider is, who will be apt to 'get there with both feet?' Pugh would undoubtedly make a stronger race than Bradley. Pugh is a new man in State politics. He comes to us with the torch of victory in his hands. He has no enemies in his own party, such as a veteran leader always has. Bradley, while an excellent stumper and a good organizer, is a man of imperious bearing. He is envious and jealous of all whom he fears may be possible rivals. On that account he would have only the lukewarm support of the big guns, while all the latter could support Pugh with enthusiasm.

Pugh would, moreover, have the great prestige of being 'the son-in-law of his father-in-law,' ex-Congressman Thomas, the finest Republican wire-puller in the State. Mark my words, the Republican banner will be carried at the head of the column in next year's contest by that young leader of leaders, Congressman-elect S. J. Pugh."

Evangelist Gales.

Personal experience is the most valuable. The following notice is taken from the last issue of the Christian Advocate. It is from the pen of Rev. E. B. McClure, minister in charge of the Presbyterian Church at Norfolk, Virginia. He says: "Evangelist Gales wins the hearts of the people, preaches the pure gospel simply and earnestly, impressing it with numerous striking illustrations, chaste and beautiful to ear and sense; loves prayer and helps the people to love that sweet and holy exercise; believes the doctrine of grace depends on the work of the Spirit; incites christians to earnestness and activity, and unbelievers to repentance. He believes, with all his soul, that the words of the Bible are the very words of God, and uses them as the sword of the Spirit. There were about sixty professions of faith including a number of the church who have been trained christians from their infancy. The results of meetings are a deepening of the spiritual life and quickening of the christian activities of the people. Accessions will be made to all the evangelical churches and among these there prevails a happy spirit of christian fellowship."

Evangelist Gales will begin his work in our city on December 3rd, at the Central Presbyterian Church in the interest of the local Y. M. C. A. Two services each day, afternoon at 3 o'clock for all classes, and at 7:30 at night for men and boys only. You are invited.

DRUGGISTS MUST PAY.

The Appellate Court Decides They Must Have License To Sell Liquor in This State.

The Court of Appeals on Thursday decided what is known as the Fowler case, from Louisville. The decision reverses the Jefferson Circuit Court and sustains the validity of the law requiring druggists to pay State license for selling liquor.

The case just decided is one which has attracted attention not only in Kentucky, but all over the United States, because the question involved, that of the right of the State to require a license of druggists for the sale of liquors, is of vital importance to the trade. The fate of the issue was being awaited by organized druggists in other States with a view to similarly exempting themselves.

The contention of the druggists in Kentucky was that whisky is a medicine, and as such the State has no more right to require a license for the sale than it has to assess a license for the sale of quinine.

A strong organization was formed for the purpose of bringing a test case and prosecuting it to a successful termination. Nearly every pharmacist in the State "chipped in" and swelled the fund. Ex-Governor Knott was employed, and, after the victory in Judge Jackson's Court, the drug men felt confident of winning in the higher court.

PENSION APPEALS.

Work of the Board During the Fiscal Year Ending June 30, 1894.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—The work of the board of pension appeals during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1894, and from that date to Nov. 1, 1894, is fully reviewed in the report made by the assistant secretary of the interior, John M. Reynolds, to Secretary Smith. In summarizing his administration of the office, Mr. Reynolds says:

"Upon taking charge of the office of assistant secretary, in April, 1893, I found 4,965 appeals pending on the docket, with the work of the board of appeals more than two years behind. In eighteen and one-half months, with 6,847 additional appeals entered during that period, the current appeals are being decided, and tardy justice no longer follows an appeal to this department by any deserving soldier, widow or orphan. Thus 10,000 cases have been considered on appeal and finally ruled upon, a greater number than was ever before disposed of in the same length of time, and more than double the number considered in any like period under my predecessor."

The small balance of arrears is said to consist almost entirely of claims undergoing further investigation in the pension bureau and of others with their final decision await the determination of legal questions that will be decisive of all. Many decisions, Mr. Reynolds says, have been rendered by him by which a more liberal construction, and one more in accord with the spirit of justice and liberality, has been placed upon sundry laws.

He recommends the following:

"First—That Section 4718 of the revised statutes be amended so as to extend the provisions, relative to the payment of accrued pensions for reimbursement, to the cases of widows and dependent relatives of the soldier.

"Second—To apply the provisions of law relative to widow pensioners, who neglect to provide for the minor children of the soldier, to the soldier himself who unlawfully abandons his family and neglects to provide for them.

"Third—To amend Section 3, act June 27, 1890, so as to clearly define title to pension to the minor children of the soldier where he does not leave a widow surviving him.

"Fourth—The enactment of provisions of law which will make proof of marriage, in the prosecution of pension claims, of universal application throughout the United States."

WORK OF BRIGANDS.

A Tobacco Store Attacked and a Riot Follows.

ROME, Nov. 24.—A band of 15 Brigands attacked a tobacco store at Gaiola, near Ferrara, last evening, while several other outlaws guarded the streets in the vicinity, threatening anybody approaching. The brigands tried to force an entrance into the store, but its owner and his servants fired guns at them.

The fire was returned by the brigands, and the town was soon in a state of the greatest excitement. The toxin was rung from the church steeple and assistance, in the shape of a number of gendarmes, soon arrived and drove the brigands out of town. Two of the inhabitants and one brigand were killed during the affray, and an officer of the gendarmes was wounded.

Firemen Injured.

CHICAGO, Nov. 24.—Members of fire engine companies Nos. 18 and 28 narrowly escaped death last night while fighting a fire in the lumber yards of the John O'Brien Lumber company at Throop and Lumber streets. A pile of lumber 40 feet high, against which they were directing their streams of water, suddenly fell upon them, and they were buried beneath the heavy planks. The injured firemen are: Frank Campion, John Harahan, John Cavanaugh, John Bower, Herman Haas, John Conkers, Captain John McDonough, Fire Marshal Campion and John Sullivan. None of the men will die. The pecuniary damage was slight.

MONTJOY.

Comments of Superintendent Blatterman on the Public School at the Point Named.

MONTJOY SCHOOL HOUSE, DISTRICT NO. 20. I always make a point of visiting this school early because the last mile of approach to the school house is over a dirt road, which after the fall rains set in is almost impassable. The trustees of this school district are: Henry Adams, John W. Holliday and A. D. Rains. We have always had good trustees here and the school property is well taken care of. They have furnished proper school furniture, maps, charts, every thing required for a good school. As I approach I find a joyous band of children enjoying a short recess. Forty is the number in attendance—a happy throng; it does one good to see them. Not one of them ever entered "Vanity Fair." Miss Callie Riddon, the teacher, is busy as a bee, tidying the house for our reception. When the bell rings, the children scamper for the house and enter the school room as joyously as they left it for a few minutes recreation. Miss Riddon has her school under excellent government and her classes give evidence of careful instruction and showed good progress. She gave us an exhibition in the use of reading charts and the result was very satisfactory. The school had been in session but a few weeks, but it was evident that a successful session was before the school under Miss Riddon's guidance.

G. W. BLATTERMAN,
Superintendent.

A Big Eagle.

A monster American eagle, fully large enough to carry off a child, was killed on D. Maher's farm, near Murphysville, by Will Haney and Mr. Tucker. One bullet entered its head and the other broke one of its wings. Mr. Maher rejoices over its death and says the reason his roosters haven't crowed since the election is now explained. The eagle was presented to W. A. Forman, who has been a life-long Democrat. His sons, Snoden and Lewis, have taken great pleasure in showing the dead eagle to disappointed roosters. Pete Prather's rooster crows now all the time; so does Tim Morgan's, John Worthington's and John McGinley's.

The eagle measures seven feet three inches, and after the Democratic club out that way are through with the American king of birds, it will be brought to Mr. Ilixson at the Public Library, where it will be mounted and kept on exhibition.

Mrs. James H. Rains and daughter, Miss Sallie, and Mr. J. C. Rains and wife ate some sauer kraut at dinner yesterday and all were taken very sick during the afternoon and last night, with symptoms of poisoning. Physicians were hastily summoned and antidotes were administered, and the parties were all much better this morning and out of danger. The supposition is that the trouble was caused by Paris green placed on the cabbage while growing, to kill worms.

Our holiday offer: 12 cabinets and life size portrait, only $5.

BROZEE, the fotografier.

Faust To-night.

Several decades have passed since Goethe's "Faust" was pronounced the best tragedy of the modern stage. During that interval nothing has been produced to render this criticism less just. Its story is of such vivid interest that its recital will bear numberless repetitions, and it is a significant and happy fact that this popular play conveys but the most impressive lessons of purity, worth and virtue. The principal character of the tragedy is necessarily "Mephisto," as portrayed by John Griffith. Scenically "Faust," as presented by Manager Church's company, is a most magnificent production and should win the approbation of all play-goers at our theatre to-night. A return engagement.
